Subject: One City, All Kids Summit - Updates

Dear GPSN Partners,

We are now two and a half weeks until the One City, All Kids summit, and I wanted to give you all a quick update on where we are on things. As of today, we are at 823 attendees registered through Eventbrite. I've seen lots of new registrations come in this week. Please be sure you are continuing to register your folks if you haven't already done so.

As I mentioned last week, we had exceeded our number for childcare provided at the summit, so we did decide to increase our maximum to 350. We are now at 415 children registered for childcare and have exceeded our capacity. Unfortunately, childcare registration is now closed. Parents with children who have not yet registered will be able to bring their children along with them, but note that they will not be able to check them in for childcare. If you find that many of your unregistered parents are still needing childcare, you are more than welcome to organize your own childcare offsite and GPSN will reimburse expenses as long as you have approved them with either myself, Charissa or Cynthia. As a reminder, all children already registered for childcare MUST be potty trained.

Also, thank you to those who have already submitted their transportation information. If you haven't already done so, please submit transportation information no later than this Friday, so I can coordinate a schedule to share with our security team and with the LA Convention Center. Please be sure you are including how many busses you have, departure times and locations, as well as a departure time from the LA Convention Center. Please find attached a parking/ bus map to circulate to your transportation contacts. I will also be sending this out in the confirmation email that will go out to all attendees we have emails for. If you do have a count of how many of your people you anticipate driving to the LA Convention Center, please send that over to me as well.
